

aplico

Fondazione
Cottino

Temperature control in vitreoretinal surgery

DESCRIPTION:

Realization of instrumentation able to modulate the temperature of infusion in the vitreous cavity during vitrectomy surgery in order to avoid large fluctuations and to promote a neuroprotective effect during surgery without reaching deep hypothermia.